Preface

Preface

Sex is something which cannot be ignored. The topic of sex will never bore you. It's always new and exciting as sex is the most basic and powerful need and want of human body. The book tells you about the realities of sex world which are always hidden and mysterious, although we know some of the realities but we never notice them carefully. This book will make you realize about the reality behind the alphabets of SEX.

I will not feel shame in admitting the fact that I love sex. Being a bisexual, I am open to lot of things; I have tried many ways and many times. I can trust the fact that I never get bored as sex is always available to me in variety. I always wanted to write a book on sex but writing something like a novel seems boring and time consuming to me. Today everyone leads a fast life and they all want a quick wake up thing to grasp. I have written this book in the most easy and functional manner so that you can do your work while reading this wonderful book.

I am advocating this book to you because it's different from other sex books. You will not waste your time here in lengthy introductions or long time consuming climax. You will get to read the real problems of sex in real life with logical solutions. Don't confuse yourself again; it's not a medical sex book. It will not suggest you any medicines to cure your menopause but it can highlight the reasons behind your ugly sex life. It has the most simple way of explaining the issues in the form of chapters and short essays and articles which highlights the most basic and crucial things which revolve around sex.

Although this book is only for adults but I really wish that youngsters above 18 should read this as it will not only clear out there many doubts about sex but will also introduce them with the reality of sex life.

Other than sex I have written many articles on corruption and politics and art and design but everyone from my friends to my acquaintances, insist me to write more and more on sex. Luckily my sex articles gather more views than other normal articles as you all know you can never say no to sex. So this book is entirely dedicated to sex focusing 36 different articles only and only on sex.

Well the source of inspiration and the most common resource is me and my life and the people I have met in my life.

I have written each and every article with experience and dedication without any hurry. Each and every article is a real story and real experience. Well it's like talking to people and noticing and noting down there experiences and issues combing my issues and experiences too.

I am thankful to my everyone who helped me in this journey of sex , from my girlfriends to my boyfriends to my fuck buddies to my friends , everyone holds a special place in my heart as they helped me a lot in making this perfect book.

Why children object their divorcee or widowed parent to have sex?

It's really hard to survive with the fact that your parents are divorced or you lost one of your parents. Well in both the cases (divorce/widow) children lose their complete family and feel frustrated. They just don't want to see this separation. It has been seen that things become more difficult and dramatic when the parents are divorced. The child who was used to their guardians and their day to day living and love has to adjust him/ her according to the realities of the world. He/she has to adjust to the maximum and sacrifice the whole concept of family.

The parents who were so much in love and affection are now dating other person which not only creates a mental tension among children but a kind of revolt inside their little hearts. The children cannot see and accept some stranger taking the place of their mother and father. For them their parents are ideal match no matter how much they fight. It's a usual issue among families which are going through the process of divorce.

Talking about widowhood, the families where children lose their one parent, it could be mother or father, they know that their one member of the family has been gone and there is no way of bringing them back but still they preserve the position of the lost member by assuming or imagining their existence and presence in their hearts.

But what about the person who is left alone? Well children may feel that they are the only one who are affected at the greater level by the death of there parent but the biggest loss is suffered by the guardian who lost his/her companion. Parents not only play the role of guardian but they had many roles with there companion. From good friends to good lovers to good emotional bonds they share everything with each other. The death is seriously something which creates suicidal feeling among the left alone partner. The father or mother whomsoever is facing widow hood cannot share every need and want with their children. As a human we have many needs and wants, we all running towards our needs and wants in our one life then how we cannot expect the needs and wants of our parents?

Well most of the children and society put restrictions on the widowed parent by banning his/her sex life and social life. Well banning here does not mean like any law or something but by putting social restrictions and remarks. If the widowed parent engages himself/herself in love affair or sex encounters , things become over dramatic as his/her casual relationships and sex encounters are considered taboo.

Well this restriction generally starts from children's side first as they do not motivate their parent for dating, instead they encourage them to devote their rest of life for their welfare and upbringing which is surely the most meanest and selfish trait of today's youth.

The person who is widowed is not a criminal, he/she is already facing the pain of sacrifice and detachment but still the youth puts restrictions on their parents with the most common excuse that “we cannot allow anyone to take our mother/father place.”

Sex is a pure body need and there is no shame about it. It's a well justified need and every one has right to enjoy there life and there own personal space. Being a parent is not a punishment and being widowed or divorcee is not a curse, every person is human first and foremost and fostering self needs and wants is seriously not a sin.

The divorcee parents who don't feel uncomfortable with there ex due to any valid reasons do have the right to start there new life with new choices. Children's do not have any right to control the life of their divorced parents. Divorce is a critical option only taken when things do not work out in any way.

It's the mutual duty of parents to adjust there liabilities and issues smoothly , it's a fact that the life of children is affected by this critical and most heart breaking decision of divorce but carrying the load of an unsuccessful marriage is seriously not a wise option.

We get one life and no one knows what happens next after this life. Being born as a human is a blessing so gain this opportunity by enjoying love and pleasure in life don't waste this one life in unnecessary quarrels and fight as at the end of the day you will be left alone with nothing but regret.

Dealing with bedroom politics

Every husband wants to be pampered by his wife when he comes home. He is tired and he needs relaxation and the only way to relax him is through food and sex. New couples often enjoy a lot and take care of each other interests in bed as well as in house and this creates a perfect chemistry in the new honeymoon days.

But as soon as things become common the interests and chemistry fades like a never existing story. Well charisma and charm is equally required in every marriage. The couples should not feel annoyed and bored with each other otherwise it will give rise to politics and the politics is surely faster than air. Things become complicated when sex becomes boring and couples look out for excuses to delay or ignore the intimate moments and foreplay.

To make any relationship work foreplay is a compulsory thing to do as it is the best way to express love and affection. The woman if feels annoyed from her husband will defiantly play the best bedroom politics know one can imagine. She will give the common excuse of being tired or will delay the sex by presenting the strong fact of menstrual cycle. Well doing sex in periods is seriously not a good thing for men and they should avoid it but when woman often use this fact as excuse then things become pretty funny and disturbing as woman are unpredictable and mysterious.

Most of the woman express there anger related to household at night when the husband is expecting love and romance. She will give sarcastic comments and will show disinterest by showing back to the charming hubby. He will try to avoid the situation and the reasons of anger by avoiding the whole issue of wife's frustration and complain but woman are smarter then men. She knows that he needs more and she has the perfect gift of targeting the weak spot of men. Most of the woman attract there husbands in bed by there colorful lingerie and nicely combed hair with tough and cold looks, she will defiantly make him obey every need and want at the crucial moment of lovemaking.

Men often forget the last night promises as promises are made in hurry to enjoy the climax of intercourse. Woman are keen observers and they carry the word of promises conducted by there husbands. She might enjoy and react on the promise made by his husband last night and may use it as much as she can to make her every wish come true.

But don't you think this bedroom politics is more like black mailing?

Well thousands of men are blackmailed romantically and sensually every night by there wife's and they easily get themselves blackmailed as there is no choice left except accepting there every requirement.

Men often get annoyed and disturbed when woman use the bedroom politics frequently. They are not fool and they understand where there wife is at fault. The most important twist comes when men avoid there wife's at night by pretend to be tired and stressed. Woman can never ignore sex for long especially when they love there husband. For them intimacy and lovemaking is crucial as it gives a sense of security and support. Men can live happier without sex for sometime as they have busy office and work schedules which divert there mind to work and other tensions but woman who stays at home wait for there husband and his arms . Woman who are frequent gamers and who had succeeded in bedroom politics are often facing the tragic procedure of divorce as not every men is smart and self disciplined. Most of the men loose patience and find there wife's sexless attitude as betrayal which creates a feeling of doubt and suspect as possessiveness is the ruler of men.

Well no matter how many complications your marriage is suffering with you should never hamper your sex life intentionally. Even if there are some misunderstandings and different opinionative thinking, you must not destroy and affect your sexual intimacy as sex plays a vital role in developing any relationship. Sex has the power to change the behaviors of zodiacs in favor as every need and wants looks small in front of sex desires.

HOW TO SOLVE MISUNDERSTANDINGS AND ADJUSTMENTS IN NEW MARRIAGE?

As you all know marriage is the most important decision of our life and before marriage our life is different and after marriage it's different. In any case we should be ready for that big change in our lifestyle as marriage is not like buying a vehicle. It's something bigger than ever important decision of our life. We often notice that our parents advocate early marriage as they find it the most judicial in every sense. Early marriage may not be a best option for today's youngsters but it has wide variety of benefits. From our sex need to our social need to our emotional need everything is shared beautifully with the partner we can trust. It's really better than girlfriends and boyfriends as sharing the personal and emotional needs with a girlfriend or boyfriend may put you in great danger as the person is not bonded by any ritual or law.

Even the job oriented people who are against early marriage will be benefited with early marriage concept as the responsibilities and liabilities are mutually shared by both the partners. Although there are great variations in this as not every partner is ready for adjustments and compromise.

The biggest thing which hampers the whole concept of marriage is the so called male ego. The man always want to see there wife in the secondary position as they can never tolerate the dominance of woman in anyway. Things become sarcastic and dramatic when woman is used with no acknowledgment and applause. Working woman is demanded by today's metropolitan men as they do not trust their own purchasing power to run the kitchen. The unlucky part lies in the fact that these working women have to work outside as well in household to gain the respect and favor of their in-laws. Their patience and sacrifice is treated as their duty and their body is treated as a working machine. No matter how much urbanized mankind has become it still does not guarantee the complete independence of women.

The misunderstandings are created in family on the issue of dowry and money. It's a fact that every person takes time in adjusting in early marriage as a woman has to start a complete new life by forgetting her previous life and home and the in-laws should be supportive and caring as every girl is someone's daughter.

Well the only way to solve the misunderstanding and problem is by analyzing yourself into the place of the culprit. If you think that your husband is at fault then analyze his situation and circumstances by analyzing yourself in his place, you will defiantly get the answers to your problems, in the same manner the husband has to analyze the position of the wife and the circumstances she is dealing with.

Nothing is impossible in this world if we are ready to change it. Well every person is human and every one has emotions and sentiments.

my banana is the strongest

We guys are crazy about our tool. I mean our penis off course we wish that it could be the hardest and strongest like a solid rock and long enough like anything whatever...and i guess its a dream of every guy to get admired by his girlfriend or boyfriend about his Mr.Tool.

It is the most important part in our body...i too wonder a lot and think every time to make my tool one of the best among my male friends..I often discuss with them about it and they really lie a lot about their dick size..lol..u know one of my friend said that his dick is 10 inches long..lol..what a joke..lol..

But the point is we really wish that our Mr. tool should be the center of attraction for our partner..I mean whomsoever your partner is ..he/she must be crazy about you and your tool off course .i always think of making it larger than ever..and by searching and searching and searching..i finally found answers to my innocent questions..Imao

Well there are many methods to make your penis bigger and larger :

First of all if you are overweight then get rid of that belly fat and it will automatically add up to your penis..and ya it really works..i lost 10 pounds and boom my penis was looking larger and fatter than ever...

second get rid of your pubic hair because a neat and clean pubic region is good for hygiene and also again make your penis more visible and adds volume to it.

Third is the surgery..lol..no one want to try that...

I masturbate a lot but i didn't knew that this is the real exercise to make your penis large. It was fun..i used to masturbate every day..because i am very horny .but don't forget to use some mustard oil or cream. Our own spit is also good as it is a natural lubricant.

seriously it does work. It gives a good exercise to the penis and our penis can become healthy, strong and big.

Last but not the least is banana..i really love it..yummy..and it is the most beneficial natural food for our penis.

Eating banana adds volume to our semen..so don't worry about wastage of semen in masturbation .Eat banana and there you go with the most strong and hard penis that will drive your girlfriend or boyfriend crazy.

Arrange marriages are no more successful !!!

Arrange marriages are no more successful !!!

It was in old times that parents usually fix up this marriage thing and bring up the couples together. I know this thing is still happening but the results are really horrible.

I am not judging here and i am also not mentioning this to all the marriages. But to some extent this thing is not a favorable option to opt.

I mean even when we buy a car we go for a test drive and for god sake its a marriage .

we really need to spend our whole life and we cant spoil it up by hooking up with any one with pretty face.

We are sometimes wrong and sometimes very wrong. We usually judge people by face and that's where we are wrong. A pretty face does not mean a pretty heart.

I mean the person could be anything worse than you have ever imagined.

We should all be concerned about finding a suitable life partner. I know our parents would suggest the best but its we who needs to live the life with that so called partner.

Our biggest problem is most of us our working in metropolitan cities and we come in regular contact with members of opposite sex but we take this advantage for a short period.

I mean we get infatuated with some and we go steady with others. Even when we choose any person and we find our self compatible with the person or may be we like anyone and feel not only good but great with that person but we cant move forward so easily as we never consider our fuck buddy as life partner.

when the question of marriage arises , we face numerous problems like parental opposition , caste and religion as well as problems of adjustments.

we really find our self helpless and treat our liking as a passing affair and end up by marrying the wrong partner suggested by parents or relatives or suggested by work area.

We know sooner or later it becomes havoc and the result is an alarming rise in divorce cases and physical violence.

The thing is we don't know the nature of the person we are getting married to and we ignore most important things which needs consideration like compatibility , sexual compatibility , nature , liking's , dislikes , physical status , mood , behavior in public and in private and the list is endless.

Its better to know the person first and then take this important decision of getting married. Rest is all on you that how you take it.

YOUNG BLOODS NEED SEX

Talking about sex

There is some spark which really attracts us when we talk about sex; there is something extraordinarily unusual about it. It's always new, it's always wonderful. At the start every one is super nervous and incredibly excited for this play, it's really mind blowing. There is an essence of hesitation, attraction, affection, curiosity & quest for sex. Every emotion is packed together ready to burst out in the first sex shot.

Well teenagers learn to do sex by themselves. Their local sex education and knowledge sources are their friends, classmates, batch mates, internet & pornography. Surprisingly they choose wrong people to grab this knowledge. Sex is a big step and in order to start this they choose whatever source is available. Sadly they feel satisfied by the knowledge given to them by the untruthful sources. At this age they worship their friends as they are the only ones who listen to them and their needs. Friends who provide the knowledge of sex also help them in maintaining secrets as they all know that their parents won't tolerate this at all.

Sex is such a bigger step but still parents are not taken into consideration. Why?

The teenagers are very well aware of the fact that there sex encounters and casual sex lifestyles are not acceptable to there parent. Every parent take there children for granted so they want there children to walk on there footsteps. The funniest thing is that children are really walking on the footsteps of there parents. Every parent was a child and was a teenager too, they also had the same quest for sex at the age of puberty and they know that whatever is happening with our children is normal as young bloods require body as a normal need to satisfy them. They know this fact but still they close there eyes like they don't even know the meaning of sex. Children who are not so open to there family members look out for the outside source. Sometimes the outside source is helpful and educates them to do the right stuff but unluckily it does not happen every time as young bloods don't know the real side of there source. Millions of guys and girls get themselves molested by elders and friends due to there unawareness and blind trust. They get so much involved in sex that they don't know the right or wrong , they just know is sex.

Long desires take a big shape which creates drama and these young teens get themselves engaged into the cases of rape, sexual assault, sexually transmitted disease and even HIV.

The reason of doing sex is still not known to people, the few moments of fun costs a lot if the source of sex knowledge is negative. The bitter fact is that no body will be concerned for you and especially in this era. But still these young bloods trust there friends blindly on these crucial intimate matters.

Parents should try to act as a friend but again this is not possible as the blanket of shyness between parents and children cannot be vanished. Sex sometimes acts as a blessing if things are good and favorable but can also act as a nightmare if the shot is in wrong direction.

So is there any solution to this problem?

WHY YOUNG GIRLS PREFER MATURE MEN FOR SEX?

What the hell? Why not me? What's wrong in me? My mom says I am the best looking guy but still she does not like me?

This is the most common question guys ask to there conscious level when they get rejected and they get so much irritated because they are unaware about the reason of rejection. They think that something is wrong in them. May be there biceps are not that huge or maybe there chest is not shaved or may be because of bank balance. There could be thousands of reasons but the most amazing reason is not known to these young studs.

Guys don't know the psychology of girls no matter how much experienced they are. Every girl is different, there dreams are same but the way they see the dream is entirely different. Every girl dreams of a prince charm but not every one wants to see there prince charm riding a horse. The biggest mistake guys do is categorizing every girl into a common label. They think that every girl is attracted to pink environment. They think every girl is delicate and desperate but today it all depends on upbringing which decides the overall behavior and type of girl. Unfortunately guys are very bad in determining the nature as there only attention is the face and body. Well girls are also not innocent in anyway, they too play games and bluff in order to fetch the most eligible bachelor. The guy which is not useful to them is obviously rejected but the guys who get 10/10 on the basis of looks and 0/10 on the basis of money are also fetched for casual sex. The ones who are 11/10 in every field are fetched for marriage. It's like choosing the phone which has all the features. Every one feels comfortable in there cup of tea and they also look for a partner who falls well into that cup of tea.

Well today casual sex is just a normal thing. Having a girlfriend or a boyfriend is not a proud thing. Talking in sarcastic and honest terms, for a guy a girlfriend means a girl who is giving him free sex and he does not have to go to any brothel or something, moreover he is pretty safe as there are very less chances of any disease as the girl is only committed to him. Obviously this girl friend thing exists till the guy does not get the required match for marriage and hence he need a well to fill. so its fine as girls don't mind in getting used up as they also have this thinking but girls forget one thing that the guy does not need any certificate of virginity but girls do get themselves destroyed by frequent usage of there g spot. They forget the more they get fucked the more there quality degrades. You understand what I mean...

For guys the more they fuck the more there tool becomes strong and versatile and defiantly big in size. Well every one demands something and the game of supply and demand works in every way. There is demand for sex and that's why there is supply.

As we were talking about the preference of girls for mature men, we mean exactly what I said above. Young guys don't know the Abcd of foreplay; they only look out for fuck and oral sex. Moreover their tool is not matured enough to excite woman. Yeah girls with smaller tits may get satisfied with small dicks but seriously the bigger the better slogan works for dicks as well as tits.

Mature guys are generally blessed with huge cocks as frequent and regular intercourses have given them their tool the desired shape. Moreover their experience gives them the knowledge of sex in right ways. Women need love, they desire love and seriously they want to feel love in sex. They don't want sex to be done as sex but as love like two mad lovers falling for each other. Young guys don't know how to create that lovers magic. They are already in hurry for tuitions or for college or for their job and their over cropped up mind only targets fuck which is very undesirable for young woman. They desire patience, care, intimacy, spark, dedication, madness, all these should be well presented with the most delicious and sweet words. It is generally seen that young guys do not stay after sex. They just did it and now they are in hurry for their some other pending works, this creates a feeling of insecurity among girls.

Generally mature men gives time, patience, space, understanding, money, care, love and all those things which make girl feel special. Moreover their foreplay is like a movie filled with drama, comedy, sincerity, passion, romance which again gives the feeling of importance and value to the girl. She feels that yes he loves me and I am something for him , something really special but in case of young guys they believe in equality , they cannot pamper there girlfriends like slaves. They treat there girl friends as normal friends and still they desire full on sex. Moreover they hesitate in spending money on her as they know that this is a temporary affair.

There are unbelievable factors which contribute in changing the thinking of these young girls towards men. They desire that there boyfriend should be intellectual enough to educate them the right ways. They want to be directed and dominated gently not friendly. They want to experience the life of a princess because they know that they are not born into a royal family. There expectations towards love are very high and that is a headache for young men.

Well again this is not with every girl. You may get a girl who is dedicated to you no matter how you treat her. Don't you think acting mature can get you someone special? Well guys do consider these tips as girls will be girls and guys will be guys.

WHAT THE HELL IS THIS ?

What the hell is this?

LOCAL SLUTS WANT TO FUCK? STOP MASTURBATING!
FUCK AN INDIAN BITCH TONIGHT!!

It might seem familiar to you but trust me it's not good, well many sex freaks do click these types of advertisements but the most shocking thing is that I saw this awful advertisement on a social networking site.

Well seems like the censorship on internet is very liberal, comparing this with television, television seems like a kid in front of the internet style of entertainment.

On one hand the government shows there hypocrite attitude and there fake concern by dubbing and omitting some intimate scenes from the Indian movies, on other hand internet is a free source to approach any type of prostitute or pimp.

Not only this websites exhibiting porn are not less in number, from young kids to teenagers everyone can freely browse and learn the sex positions and methods. Well this sex education may help them in fetching partners but from carrier and mental development point of view the progress will be unsatisfactory. The population will increase defiantly as sex and lust development is on high scale thanks to these entertainment sources.

Well most of the Indian movie producers spend huge amount of money to get there movies untouched by the censor board, well offering bribe may prevent there movies from omitting and editing but there budget defiantly get high on scale which is ultimately taken from the audience in shape of increased ticket prices and taxes.

Well film industry's creativity and innovation is also affected by the policies of sensor board but what about internet? Getting internet service is not a big world war task, I guess anyone can get it and there is no control over the foreign adult websites.

A cartoonist gets punishment for depicting the reality and true picture of political leaders but the people who are boldly exhibiting prostitution on internet are not even questioned. Well this is the hypocrite attitude of the political leaders who don't have any control on crime but certainly have big control on innocent people.

LOVE OR LUST- CONFUSED

Love beyond everything

Love, it's not a thing it's a feeling which can really affect every species on this planet. Love is something which is eternal, long lasting and unbelievably strong. The power of love can create a revolution. When we agree that we are in love we do whatever we could to prove our self. Well as we all know that love can happen anywhere and it does not see boundaries and limitations but these quotes about love seem lovable only in books and films.

The reality is seriously strange as love is often a misguided shadow taking the shelter of lust. Well our lust creates attraction and that attraction becomes addiction and attachment if we get a positive response from the opposite sex. Well expecting love without knowing each other is foolishness. The biggest problem with youngsters is that they easily misguide themselves and treat there lust as love , there lust affairs lasts for some months or years and sooner or later they find unwanted reasons to end the relationship. It has been seen that all this breakup strategy comes from guy's side as girls are pretty sensitive towards love and emotions.

Men know that they can never approach the girl with pure honesty , they cannot disclose there cruel intentions as not every girl will agree on casual sex but lust is lust , the more you try to control it the more you feel insane and helpless. Well the most amazing and nice way of fulfilling the ultimate lust is marriage but not every guy acknowledge this useful process. For them marriage is nothing but a barrier in there path of victory and success, most of the guys want to feel and act like Casanova, they want to taste every girl like a spice.

The biggest mistake girls do is they give there virginity on the base of trust and sentiments. Even the most practical and urbanized woman get themselves fooled in this love game as for guys Promises are meant to be broken. The concept of early marriage seems very odd and backward to young generation, they want to enjoy sex but they don't want to ruin there intimate moments with the introduction of children and responsibility. They cannot easily go to brothels and they cannot waste there time is masturbating; dating seems the easiest and cheapest way to experience sex.

Well unluckily most of the woman treat there lovers as there husbands which is seriously not acceptable to them as for them being an open fuck buddy is a better option. Guys never want to be in a committed relationship as they want there options to be open. The most optimistic and opportunistic today's metropolitan guys want a committed girlfriend but they do not want to be into the committed circle as there independence is there key to success. Sooner or later every committed girl acts as wife and approach friends and media for the inspection of there lover as they cannot share him but guys often take this mess very seriously. For them the concept of spy is too possessive which not only breaks them apart but also creates unwanted fights.

Woman are the future but they get themselves exploited at very early age, selecting the guy of there choice is not bad but becoming insane in love is seriously the most dangerous step if they are not sure about the real intentions. It's always advisable to be open to the parents regarding the likings and choices because big secrets cause big tragedies. Our parents are our real well-wishers, they will never misguide us but still they seem more fake to us as our new love seems more true to us. The dominance of puberty and uncontrollable lust make situations complex and young woman are forced to attempt the most awful steps.

Most of the young generations are still unaware about the deep concept of love. There misconceptions feed them with boyfriends and girlfriends and they label there every affair as love. The importance of love is never taken seriously and that's why love does not consider the lovers importance.

MAKING OUT FOR LOVE

Making out for love

Millions or you can say billions fall in love every minute. We see any attractive body and we get our self carried away but besides knowing everything why we call it love?

Why quotes like love at first sight are used to prove the intentions?

Well there is nothing called love at first sight, really it can never happen. The lust is labeled as love and the love is labeled as lust.

We often disclose our feelings to the people we really like and it totally depends on them whether they will accept our feelings or not. Today rejection is an issue, after rejection we automatically blame us and characterize us into the column of loser. We never ever try to understand what we really desire. Running after beautiful figures will only label us as cheapest as our own self respect seems doubtful.

Begging in love is one of the most common and useless acts we perform, it's not a joke and it's not a game, its a serious issue which not only disturbs our personality but also our self esteem.

Love is never forced on anyone and expecting love at any cost is foolishness as well as the most immature attitude towards life. We treat love as a commodity and expects it to come to us, as an old say we cannot exchange love by money and love is not available in super markets but the definition of love is different for people, they quickly link sex with love and act dumbly like some lusty puppy who has no aim in life except sex which they call love.

Naming sex as love will never change anything and our soul and our conscious always tell us that what we are doing is wrong but still we ignore it and move forward towards this journey of sex.

Unluckily lack of knowledge and immaturity creates the most awkward situations for us. We never try to examine the effects of before and after making out. For some its true love and for some its just pure sex. The one who considers there partners as lovers end up with disappointment as they never try there best in understanding the nature. Instead of noticing and understanding the nature and temperament we utilize our whole time and effort in examining the body stats which not only creates nuisance but we also end up in most disastrous situations where the world seems heartless.

men /woman & sex

Well as we all are dependent on sex for our survival; we often make it interesting every time we do it. Gone are those days when men were having an extra marital affair or when men were keeping there own private mistress.

Today men are very fast in experimenting the real sex in terms of real play. They do not mind in practicing the odds and evens of the sex games and they do indulge themselves into trouble and risky affairs leading to anything disastrous. As men cannot live without sex, woman are opposite of that, there are good majority of woman who are not addicted to sex, they only perform this play to give birth to there child, later they avoid this play as much as they can with the excuse of responsibilities, children and tiredness but men will never compromise his sex need as it's a basic and most important need of men.

Well as number of men are not satisfied in bed with there wife's, they prefer to go out and find that ultimate pleasure. The ultimate pleasure has numerous meanings and there are numerous ways which lead to these pleasures but they demand money. Moreover men cannot treat the outside woman as sex slave in bed, they cannot make her do whatever they desire, the time they get for sex is also limited and every shot costs a lot. Due to this risky outside affair many men compromise with there wife's and treat them as queen to get that ultimate pleasure at night. Well many woman refuse to offer blowjob to there husband but this blowjob is very compulsory for men as they feel like a king when there wife's act as a sex slave in bed. They desire for this dominance, they want this but disappointment and the word no makes them more arrogant and frustrated which leads to unhealthy married life.

Today sex is very creative, men are not only smart but they know how to pamper themselves in bed. They indulge in multiple one night stands with multiple partners. Moreover, they prefer diversity in gender. Today men are called more bisexual then straight as there greed for satisfaction takes them to the hidden doors of the sex world. They experience ultimate pleasure in different intervals by different partners of different gender. Like many men approach gay men for blowjob and woman for foreplay. Some even wants to try anal sex with there wife's but wife's generally do not get ready to this new technique as anal sex is risky and there are many obligations and restrictions about it. Prostitutes and homo guys are approached by these horny men and in this way they fulfill there every single sex need.

Well woman are very uncomfortable with sex when it comes to stranger, they worship there husbands as they treat them as god and guardian but sex also influence them. There only target is there husbands but there are cases when husband do not make them feel fully satisfied due to lack of interest or impotence. The unconsummated and partly consummated woman feels insecure without the men's arms, she prefers a substitute to that and that substitute is food or friends. Generally woman are much more inclined towards their male friends as they trust them completely. Women do not prefer sex with a stranger as women need a reason to have sex and guys need a place to have sex.

Women are so emotionally connected to sex that they treat it as an event, something big, something serious but for guys it's like eating strawberry ice cream. Well sex is entirely physical and it's totally based on looks. There are very rare couples who prefer the nature of partner and do not consider physical beauty in sex. But are they really satisfied with their sex lives? Well we people dream about sex, we fantasize our partner's stats and looks, we want to love and pamper the best body. It's like we are buying our favorite car or doll, we love it and we surely do not want to compromise.

Maybe that's the reason why good looking partners' arrogance and attitude is tolerated because of their beauty and an ugly partner has no partner rights. Well we surely know what to do in sex, we know how we feel good, we enjoy touching, massaging, kissing and smooching, rubbing and holding, these intimate acts give us positive energy so it's obvious that we want to massage or we want to kiss a beautiful skin, we want to make out with a beautiful face, we want a perfect partner lying naked by our side. It's our desire but we generally do not get what we want. Arrange marriages do not allow us to make unnecessary demands, so we compromise on many levels but we do take out the right time and way to choose our unfulfilled desires.

WHY SEX MEANS A LOT TO US?

It's an old game, an old practice done by every living creature and surprisingly there method of doing it is very similar to the method of Homo sapiens. Sex, I don't know who discovered this word; it could have been called up by any other name like smile or apple. Well why only sex is pronounced as sex? And how we get ourselves engaged in foreplay? Who invented sex? Well I heard from someone that in earlier time's sex was just a procedure to have kids, nothing else. It was just a procedure of inserting the male penis into the vagina stroking it to achieve the orgasm and that's it. It was performed in a very short duration of time like 5 minutes you can say as the main reason for sex was carrying on the further generation. Nobody was so deeply engaged in foreplay and oral sex. Different sex positions and blow job was only performed by prostitutes at that time. Well Sex will always be a mystery as no one knows why this urge never stops, it's an addictive need. Why we only want to have sex with the person blessed with good body and nice face? Why we do not consider the needs of any ugly guy/girl? Why this variation? What made humans so choosy? Seems like sex is no more a job, it's a recreational activity and no one is certain and concerned about its results. as you all are aware of the fact that millions of girls treat there child as waste and get there child aborted due to many known reasons and some use the medicines as a daily compulsory pill, in the same way guys jerk off and destroy the precious semen million times sometimes in a condom and sometimes on a floor, they rarely invest this semen into the right way and that is vagina as they are not ready to invest there life with that girl after that 15 minutes sex. This urbanization and competitive environment has made us uneasy and uncertain about so many things. We need a touch that makes us realize the fact that we are in a better position. But why we want to be pampered on such high level of sexuality? Why we feel secured when our partner touches or licks our private zones? Why this practice of foreplay makes us feel like the boss of the world? Why the entire sex cycle makes us feel okay and satisfied? Is sex the only solution to any problem? Its been observed and I will say about myself , I feel less depressed and less worried when I get laid but on my lonely nights I feel very much insecure and worried . Why sex removes that tension from my mind? I don't know but sex works like magic. I am not advising you to go into one night stands to chuck out your worries, this magic works only when you do sex with one partner multiple times. Choosing multiple partners will convert the situation into a slut environment and you will not feel good about yourself as adultery makes people feel guilty as they have to constantly lie to there partner and family. But overall the feeling and sensation makes me feel on top of the world. I don't know after masturbation I feel guilty that I shouldn't have done it but after a good sex , I feel yes , this is my life and I need to enjoy it. Its feeling that makes me feel right about myself , I feel so respectful about myself , I thank myself again and again that finally I have given time to myself which was mandatory. I enjoy sex like anything but I worship sex and I feel awesome about it. I don't feel shame in talking about it or doing it, it's my right. I am born to live and we all gona die one day so why should we waste the existence of our sexual organs, lets use it but surely in a healthy way.

Ha-ha when I was typing this word “ CHUTIYA ” . My word document indicated this word as wrong pronunciation as they do not have this word in there dictionary. Well this reminded me of the fact that no matter how much chutiya I consider myself , my faith in me and my fortune tells me that this is not you , this word belongs to any other nerds who are bloody hypocrites born to create difficulties in the surviving path of honest people. I guess I am somehow honest and that's why I have always failed in dating games, I never approached a girl for just sex, I wanted a relationship but as you can say girls are smarter and versatile, they need fun just fun and guys with big tits and muscles and no brains are cherry on the cake for them as they give them flattering physiological boosts making them feel extra, extra, extra special to drill an extra, extra, extra large tool in them.

Well sex is casual, so are relationships. Having boyfriend is not a need or want, its fashion trait which is really mandatory for bimbo girls as there bursting hormones won't let them stay virgin. Today body and sex goes well together , if you have a body then sex is unlimited in your dictionary as despos are high in number but from where all this urge and unsatisfied hunger come from? Are we born with this hunger or it's just the revolution of urbanized sex.

Well foreplay is as common as saying hello to a stranger and little bit of girl drama is usual thing guys handle at the time of fucking them as many girls does not wants to get fucked before marriage but fuck is the basic and most crucial want of guy, he needs hole weather its asshole of a guy or g spot of a girl. Today guys are more bisexual then being totally straight as main concern is to get the cum out of the tube and this can be done with any gender.

Well guys from modeling field face these situations where there carrier battle depends on the fucking chemistry and physics of the casting couch. The compromisers get chance and the argumentative just keep on posting there photo shoots on social networking sites to get some limelight which is surely fake as people will comment only if you reciprocate. God this world is just made out of sex.

No matter how stupid you are but when you get a hotshot partner (girl/guy) you know the spots and Jones. But the question is what it takes to catch a girl? Having a girlfriend makes you smarter? Or if u doesn't get a girl, it means you are a chutiya like me? Hmm well option second is thinkable. The thing is everything is manipulation and word building. Although body works as a base to catch chicks but the word of appreciation also matters. The biggest drawback of guys is falling for bimbo girls as they do not have time for anything except there manicure and facial, they will treat your feelings as an expiry sun protection cream and will discard you sooner or later. This young generation love affairs are never serious and real, they all are fake as both the partner need experience and temporary enjoyment to chuck out there liquids. As the world is changing the reality and position of sex is changing, it is no more an important affair but a common shake hand between two people who know what they want.

making sex easier

making sex easier

Making sex easier

You are making my sex life easier by motivating me to be in shape. Well sex is connected to body and it's a body need. Like a delicious food satisfy our hunger in a good manner, in the same way a perfect body gives immense satisfaction to the body hunger.

Body lust is the most critical and important want which is important at any cost. In case of a guy or a girl who are out of shape, they feel incredible difficulties in getting a partner as there bodies are not capable of attracting the opposite sex.

The motivation and the sexual arousal take place when we see something exceptionally close to perfection or perfect. We have legal mindset what is beautiful is in and what is ugly is out. We cannot establish a partial thought by saying that fat is ugly.

A Fat person is like being too much pampered body which is over feed every time , this excess feeding gives rise to the size of abdomen , legs , thighs , chest , face and other portions of body , causing tearing of the skin due to excess enlargement of the body parts causing stretch marks and stocky nature of body.

Some people enjoy this excess development as the sign of richness and completeness in terms of financial nature and surprisingly some enjoy this kind of body development and they prefer fat guy or fat girl as there partners for sex.

Well there is a kinky say " That for real fun there should be some amount of meat on the skeleton" This quote was specially to tease skinny people and bony people to create a feeling of superiority. Well sex never stops for anyone. A fat guy can hire a slut and a healthy girl can sleep with her driver.

Sex revolves around humans and it will happen every time. Some human beings design themselves so perfectly with the help of gym that there physique opens millions of alternatives and options. This perfection makes them choosy and arrogant.

On the other scale a healthy guy with imperfect posture have no alternatives and limited options to satisfy his body lust. He takes help of masturbation but that is a punishment not a second alternative. Besides that a fat person feels sexier every time he sees something erotic compared to a fit person.

This may be due to lack of satisfaction and absence of continuous sexual life. There need and wants mix together and creates a strong urge and madness which makes them feel sick and trapped. The fit people gets sex all the time with diverse partners, they feel completely satisfied and there urge does not force them so much. It does not mean that all the healthy people are like that or all the fit people are like that, it's versatile. We all have some vision and some desires which creates a feeling of independence among our sexual levels.

We want the best partner who should be perfect physically first then mentally second. No one gives chance to any ugly person but a beautiful person is invited without the consideration of nature and behavior. Once again we have proved that we are animals when it comes to sex. Nature and behavior are secondary and looks and body is priority when it comes to full satisfaction of body hunger.

SEX THE ROOT CAUSE OF SUCCESS

Sex the root cause of success

Can you sleep with your boss for some promotion? Can you treat yourself as the sex object to fetch your materialistic needs? Are you okay with compromise?

Well these questions does not seem unusual, in fact they are acceptable in today's scenario. Luckily we Indians have adopted modern ways or you can say shortcuts to climb the ladder of success. But If success means sleeping with your boss then what about those who work very hard to get the best results or some best promotion ?

There is different level of respect among people when it comes to sex. For some sex is just the means of enjoyment but some are deeply connected to it and only prefer to enjoy it with there partners and for some it is a dirty thing to do.

Well even those who hate doing sex regularly are dependent on sex. Sex always takes place when we see anyone who is attractive. Our attraction gives the feeling of infatuation and soon we want that person under our bed sheet.

Sex is certainly a root cause of success but the one who links sex with love might find it difficult to compromise as there lover is only there sex partner. It means that the one who are deeply in love cannot enjoy any shortcut methods as compromise is a big deal for them. On the other hand the one who do not link sex with love find themselves easily carried away to different opportunities even if the compromise is bigger then there thinking.

Well it might be easy to compromise with the person you are attracted biologically. Like heterosexuals are attracted to opposite sex but if any heterosexual men has to compromise with any homosexual men then what would be the affect and reaction?

Well its strange but true, the Indian film industry seems pretty much easy for young woman but struggling and hard for men as the most questionable situation which comes there way is compromise with another men which is certainly a very big task for them as the attraction scale is zero but still some desperate guys feel that they can give this a try. But the billion dollar question is that are they super humans as compared to another men? Or is it just sex and no feelings attracted formula which makes them drink this venom? What give them guts to sleep with the one they are not attracted to in anyway?

Well certainly some people practice sex with both the genders, sooner or later they become experienced in satisfying themselves by both the genders but who has laid down these shortcut ways?

Why we get so desperate that we even choose the path we don't know about?

Sex may be a private affair but sex is directly linked to our body and it may affect us badly if our decisions are wrong. On one hand where guys prefer sleeping with every next door girl, girls are inclined to one man thing only but exceptions are always there.

Well sex is such a easy thing for us today I don't know why we are not serious about the effects of sex? Why we choose multiple partners without even considering its pros and cons? Why we decide every one deserving on the basis of there looks? Is outer beauty the only medium to choose the partner for sex? Question yourself before engaging into any sexual encounter, trust me you will feel different this time.

It is justified that sex partners are selected on the basis of looks as the body is the only medium which makes our lust satisfied. But are we not socially aware?

Well money makes the mayor jump so the prostitute as sex is used today not only to satisfy our need but others need too with some business thrown in. Its okay to compromise and accept this sexual way of black mailing but its also mandatory to identify the health status of the individual you are sleeping with as the best sex may guarantee the best promotion but not the best health results every time.

I HATE SEX LIKE I LOVE SEX

I hate sex like I love sex

Well sex is something unbelievably strong and demanding. We all want to accomplish the best sex life and trust me sex is something we can never avoid. It always excites us no matter what age group we fall into. We may have not achieved anything in our life but we do wish to achieve a good position and respect in front of our partner when it comes to sex. We cannot handle any labels which prove our incompetence in sex. Guys who are always denoting there precious time in exploring girls and experiencing, girls are much more into values and emotions. Well surprisingly we invest our whole life in doing what is regular and end up with small accomplishments and rewards which do not give any proud moment. Our double standards compel us to love sex in private and hate sex in public.

Sex is something which is just a feeling, a way of enjoyment but everyone considers it as there birth right. Its not bad to consider sex as there right as human body wants sex but the essence of sexual domination compels them to mark there right forcibly on the woman figure. Husbands consider there wife's as sex slave and no matter how much tired she is feeling she had to cook his bed if she wants to live happily ever after but when it comes to woman sexual needs , men treat them as sluts . For them woman and specially wife if demand sex very often she is not considered auspicious and respectful. Men satisfy themselves by their own ways, they schedule sex according to their needs but woman is just entitled to receive the orders.

This is not enough, even lesbian woman who are forcibly married to men face the exploitation and harassment. They have to face corrective rape all the time by their husband or sometimes even parents get their lesbian daughters fucked by illegal and unnatural process just in order to turn them into straight woman.

Sex is available in markets and is widely offered and distributed. We often blame the prostitutes for spreading adultery but the root cause is the demand. It's a popular say that with every demand there is a supply and no demand means no supply. So the prostitutes are certainly not at fault, for them they are earning their bread and for men they are getting that ultimate sexual experience. People are so much dependent on sex that they spend from thousands to lakhs, they travel from one country to another, they lie to their spouse, they ignore their kids, they do whatever they can just for sex.

Well it's not about giving birth to kids; it's much more than that. Well sex is not someone's property and that's what allows every one to have sex. Heterosexuals enjoy unlimited sex encounters but still they question on the existence of gay and lesbian. Well sex is just sex, it's a feeling which lasts for some minutes, it does not matter whom you are sleeping with, if you are satisfied with what you are getting then no body has right to question you but still we socially active people enjoy measuring the size of others cock rather than measuring ours.

We often look other girls as sex objects but when it comes to our sisters we do not allow them to even talk to any opposite sex. Well the mean and selfish mentality of people will always force them to enjoy sex but criticize it the same time.

For us talking about sex is shame but doing sex is a proud thing to do. The beauty in sex is that girls often compromise with there rich boyfriends or opportunistic colleagues in order to climb the ladder of success but still they feel insecure with open link up. Sex is the new barter system today; girls and guys compromise and get not only money but also fame, name and position in market.

Sex is like a chain. It goes like this :

Guy fucks the girl

The girl gets pregnant

She gets it aborted

Doctors enjoy abortion cases as it leads them to heavy pockets

Pharmaceutical companies enjoy supplying birth control pills

Condom makers are giving the best advertisements

Prostitutes are worshipped

Woman is the centre figure

Actors and actress show some butt and fetch crores

Businessmen spend hard earned money on there secretaries

Young bloods raise internet bills by downloading pornography

Sexual encounters happen every where but still we hate sex in public but love sex in private.

CAN SEX BECOME SOMEONES DESTINY ?

Can sex become someones destiny ?

Sex – the ultimate destiny

It's been ages and I have not slept with anyone, I urge for sex, I quest for sex, I lust for sex. It's just a pure desire. I do not seek to fall in love; I might fall in love as the one who will give the pure satisfaction is the almighty for me. I remember the days when I was rocking and breaking the beds and that time was seriously the best time of my life. Sex was the only goal, the only aim, the only destiny where I see myself drowning into the sea of lust.

Well I was questioning myself again and again is there anything else exciting in this world that can give meaning to my life and I was desperately seeking for some way out which can keep me away from sex at least for some time as my addiction was killing me and that point was so disturbing as I was even ready to sleep with any awful looking person.

I never regret my choices and decisions as this is what today I am because of my past choices and likings. Well as a person I may look like a freak as I am totally emotional and frank , the biggest height of my emotions and sentiments is that I tend to become possessive even to my fuck buddies and trust me today woman hate men who are over possessive.

Well why I cannot think about something else?

Why I only look out for sex?

Am I an addict?

Or I am a sex freak or some mythological sex slave?

I am totally scared and worried about my intentions and greed. Till this time I was only blaming myself for being such a freak but I was not the only one, there are millions out there just like me and its obvious that we all love sex and long for it, just the difference is in the level of passion, mine is like reaching Mount Everest and for some other it might be reaching any building. It's from person to person but how can I avoid sex and live my life just like that?

My mind enjoys double meaning comedy, I feel so pampered when I see any porn video and trying every sex position in bed is my goal for sure. Well you might consider me insane but I know I have found my word of thought and yes I love sex more than myself so I can proudly consider it as my destiny.

WHY GIRLS ARE STUPID WHEN IT COMES TO LOVE ?

why girls are stupid when it comes to love ?

Before becoming a woman, a woman has to face many levels. From a child to a young lady to a mature woman, she learns so many things which not only make her an all rounder but also the most important helping hand which is responsible for men's success and victory. Woman never realize how important they are, they think that its there duty to work and fulfill the needs of there family and losing there identity and devoting themselves completely is there primary motive.

Every girl is blessed with some blessings and some criticism. The concept of girl child is very controversial in country like India. There are two things which really affect the mental stability of parents, one is giving extra care and protection as she is a girl and second is Dowry. Although the government and the constitution has offered strict laws and regulations against dowry and they even offer protection for woman but looking at today's scenario the law and order seems strict in books only. The reality is severely horrifying.

Young girls when enter the age of puberty are at high risk as the society is full of culprits and sinners. Parents do there best in protecting there girls from any kind of tragic event. They try there best to convince there daughters to avoid male friends, they do not allow them to step outside late, they even sometimes check there daughters mobile phones.

By doing all these efforts, are they really able to protect there daughters from the exploitation? Well this country is sick so is the law and order. Thanks to our carefree political system and fast urbanization, with the gift of internet the freedom is seriously outstanding.

There are so many places where young woman are targeted like from schools to colleges to face book to neighborhood. Parents forget that they cannot trap and isolate there daughters completely as they are human first and then anything else.

Well the biggest problem with the woman figure is that they think from there heart and not from there brain. There care and sensitivity is often used and they end up with disappointment and failure.

Young woman when look out for dating they forget that not every good looking face is good-looking from heart. On the other hand urbanized woman only look out for good looks and status. They do not consider human values and nature. There dependence and blind trust makes them miserable later. Wearing prada and stilettos does not guarantee a perfect prince charm as men see woman with different style, for them it's a wonderful object invented by god for them to play.

Men do not get serious for marriage until they are getting something serious from the woman. Mainly it's the upbringing which is responsible for the today's fake relationships. If you will not consider someone as human, you will certainly not consider the emotions and feelings.

Young ladies rush to attract the guy next door or there popular college mate without even noticing his nature and sensitivity. The looks blind them completely, thanks to branded clothing and expensive mobile phones, things become worse when these materialistic things attract young woman completely. Some innocent girls even try the nastiest things to remain in the company of good looking guys. They tell lie to there parents, they do the most hideous things just to impress him. They are even ready to lose there identity and act like a slave or some kind of street animal dying to eat packaged food. Well the age of puberty creates ups and downs, body need is so annoying and dominating that everything seems so difficult if we remain true to ourselves. Loving our self as what we are do not create opportunities and that's why many young girls change themselves for good but the good is not for them it's for the guy.

If you don't like to wear short clothes then do not, choosing what you don't like is seriously bullshit. Trust me if a guy likes you then he will be with you no matter how much weird you look. I am not advocating you to remain untidy and stinky but changing your complete personality will only affect you as a person and not the one for whom you are doing it you see. Well little bit of grooming and manicure is fine but do not torture yourself. You can easily get fake relationships and fake friends if you are ready to be like them but being yourself completely might not give you many friends but you will certainly get a real friend.

Nothing will help you, no social sites, no gossips, no good looks, the thing which will help you is to be you and trust yourself only because he is not the one guy okay there are millions out there so just don't stalk or steal. Be real you will save your self and your heart from every type of emotional Atyachaar.

WHEN & WHY WOMAN LOSES THERE VIRGINITY ?

When & why woman loses there virginity ?

Woman can never be treated as sex seekers. No matter how much desperate a woman is, every woman has dreams and every woman loves the concept of love. Women are designed to take things slowly and romantically.

The problem with today's generation is that they do not understand the concept of woman. For guys it's a play toy but its not. For guys woman are not a serious issue and there importance is not acknowledged, the biggest reason behind this is frequent deaths of girl infants. This has created the atmosphere of hatred and ignorance towards woman. Although woman is whole some responsible for the progress and upbringing and without woman man cannot live and work efficiently but still the concept of woman is different and controversial in India.

Young woman are not considered as sisters by young men and no one can change this thinking as opposites attract. The biggest problem arises when men do not treat woman as lover but as sex slave. For them woman is not a permanent asset of there life but a temporary rental house where they live according to there specifications. Trust me not every woman is stupid, every woman has some power or you can say some intuitions which tell them about the true intentions of men.

Women choose men with the purpose, for them he is the one who will carry on the generation and will take care of her and her children. Man does not think so optimistic, they only take care of there physical need and that is sex. Unfortunately men never say no to sex and woman and for them every woman is available. Even the committed men urge for his best friend's girlfriend if she is hot but women are different. Once they consider a man as there whole world they do not care about any other man, no matter how much ugly her man is.

The men do not understand the dreams of woman. If you really want a woman in your life then you have to make some changes in your lifestyle and thinking. You have to consider the woman as the most important person of your life above everyone. Listen carefully, woman needs love and the power of love can even change the direction of wars.

Woman wants to take a bath in the sea of love and you have to complete her with tons of love. Don't mix love with lust, otherwise you will end up with tight slap. Woman will only give her virginity if she will trust you as the man of her children. If you want to have casual sex for some short time then its better to go to prostitutes rather than any regular normal woman as most of the woman fantasies there fuck buddies as lover and sooner or later that lover is considered as husband.

But this does not men that you will not get woman for casual sex. Well you cannot openly describe your intentions of sex to woman as further you will end up with tight slap or police complaint. Most of the guys choose the better option and that is faking love. They enjoy this love fake game and it works in case of girls. They pretend to be the perfect lover and they also make the big promises which are powerful enough to convince any woman of the world. The most common promise is of marriage.

Although the marriage bait is very common and usual but still most of the woman get convinced by this strategy. Women never give options to men but they actually work as option for men. They do not force men for marriage first and sex later option but end up as the best alternative by losing there virginity on the promise of marriage.

Well woman behave immature and they intentionally ignore the fake love of there lover, most of the woman know the background and intentions of there lover but still they allow them for everything by pretending to be innocent. Well woman are not at fault as lust is not only the ornament of men. Man or woman both the genders need sex as it's the most common need, the difference comes in the way they project there lust as woman has some boundaries and man are free from boundaries. Nature has given boundaries to woman besides society and women know them very well.

THE POWER OF KAMASUTRA IN INDIA

The power of Kamasutra in India

The power of Kamasutra in India

We all know the definitions of sex and for every person sex has its own unique position and respect. Off course we respect sex; the biggest reason is we can never avoid it. We can never boycott it. No matter in what orientation we are born we love sex and from time to time our sex drive increases and decreases.

Undoubtedly sex gives pleasure but this pleasure does not give peace as there are so many obligations and objections regarding sex. Sex is not a saint and it is always considered scandalous. The sincerity and passion for sex is never acknowledged, in fact from sex less to sex freak, both are considered culprits in relationship games.

Sex is just a play, it has never been taken seriously, we do sex and we never talk about it as talking about sex brings guilt and shame. But the most amazing question is that

“Is the shame arising because we are crossing the limits? Or we want this to be secret affair?”

Well sex cannot be labeled as a secret affair as it is openly available on internet and other local sources, anyone can approach sex through different mediums. In fact small expression to large expression of love making is in fashion in movies as well as in reality.

Well ignoring sex is foolishness and doing excess is madness but why Indian people live in double standard reality? On one hand men in India frequently go to night bars and brothels and on other hand they criticize sex as the most awful thing. Well this development and urbanization has created awareness which not only give us opportunities but it also controls us by the terror of HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases.

Well no doubt the HIV status is uncertain and most of the people do not get themselves tested as being HIV is a taboo in India, people cannot even talk about it openly as the disease is controversial. Besides having plenty of awareness about HIV, people still doesn't prefer barriers and other contraceptive devices. The fashion of getting laid is on amazing height among youngsters and adults but no one wants to play safe. The majority who takes everything seriously in sex is very less off course.

The exotic land India which is blessed with the education of Kamasutra does not follow the rules and regulations of sex. For them sex is not a serious affair, it is a common thing to do. The concept of sex is so mind-blowing and dominating that its impact creates revolutions.

Unnatural sex is the privilege of most of the people, they all enjoy it but they defend themselves as superior by speaking against the same topic in public. When a man enjoys unnatural intercourse with a woman, he finds it justified but when a man enjoys sex with another man it is considered unnatural and unacceptable. The country where everyone is earning there own bread has ways to defend there integrity and individuality. Every one has there own respect & choices and they all do what they like. Besides practicality the double standard and narrow minded ness floats together.

The transgender are considered worse in every way, they are not accepted and they are not even considered humans in India. They don't even enjoy the privilege of the first class citizen as people have set standards and rules which do not favor every type of human being.

Undoubtedly sex is performed and no matter how much strict we become the urge and drive of sex will never end, it will only expand and expand as sex is not a choice, we all are born with this very need. The height of madness is such that it can even make you feel trapped as the society has made some awful and pathetic rules which creates a feeling of revolt and anger among people.

From caste to communalism to age, these three factors have given nothing but violence on the grounds of sex and love. The younger are taught to select the sex partner on the grounds of caste, matching age and money off course. The ones who do not follow the three guidelines are tortured till the end as ego is greater than blood.

The government and the constitution has made very strict rules and regulations which can prevent the injustice and every kind of sexual harassment but still most of the majority is suffering and waiting for the justice.

The girls are not safe on streets, the homosexuals are tortured every single second, the bisexuals are treated insane, the transgender are not even considered humans, the straight enjoys every type of natural and unnatural sex, Most of the people are either scared or carefree about sexually transmitted disease, and they all know it but still behave like illiterate. Indians feel pride as they are blessed with the most ancient and amazing study of Kamasutra, they all purchase it before there auspicious wedding but they have tried the very book with every single slut.

When a common woman is tortured through MMS, she loses her value and self respect as people have different opinions and comments on the scandalous issue but when an actress exhibits her own MMS people have different view point which is shocking as well as disturbing as her stupid publicity stunt is considered glamorous. People not only accept the very actress but she also gets national award. Amazingly sex has different positions and values and its visibility changes with every person.

Sex will always remain the topic of interest with the touch of controversy and scandal.

INCREDIBLE LOVE LETTER TO IMPRESS ANY TYPE OF GIRL

INCREDIBLE LOVE LETTER TO IMPRESS ANY TYPE OF GIRL

This is getting serious. Baby since I met you I don't have any control on myself. I admit that you are not interested in me but still my soul seeks for a hope. I heard about true love but never thought that I will fall into this.

You are perfect and I know that there are thousands of guys who can even kill anyone for you but I am your very true fan. I know that I may be not that good looking but still my heart is very good-looking.

My heart just beats for you . Please talk to me. I wait for your call everyday. I message you everyday with intimate passion. I don't force you but it's a request that consider me as someone who really worships you.

I really can't sleep at night and can't do my work because I think of you every time. I thought that this happens only in movies but sorry it also happens in real life and its happening to me.

You really changed my life. Since you walked in my life I am the luckiest person. Now I really feel to do hard work to give whatever you want but just need your smile and you in return.

Please don't take it as a joke, it's not a phase, it's not a crush. I get proposals and I really hold them and don't feel like pursuing to them because I think that one day you will surely think of me but I also know that you will never ever take me seriously.

I got something to tell you and you should hear that. I LOVE YOU. I really honestly love you.

You really have to let me know your approval. My love is very simple. Please realize that it's coming from my heart and not my head. I am not trying to make you feel uncomfortable but this feeling doesn't come along every day.

And please don't blow this chance. You will get admirers but will never get lover like me.

I know I am different and may be less than those with good muscles and charming faces but my heart pumps for you. I am tired of letting my heart know that you will never come but still this hope would be alive till my last breath.

I really want to play with other beauties but my heart stops me to do that because he has made a commitment to you. It's heart to heart. I don't need you but I want you.

Whenever I see you I really feel like I am in heaven. Please make me the part of your life. I know you told your friends about me and you are impressed that's what I was thinking when I used to get calls from you every night but I am afraid that may be you just count me as a friend.

May be this is what I deserve. I really dedicate this blog to you because I can't stop thinking about you. I really want to be with you. Please try to understand. I know that pure love is one which gives and doesn't demand but truth sucks. It really does. I am addicted to you now.

Why love happens so easily and why I was chosen for this? I ask myself that my life is already screwed up and then why this love came in and now it sucks more than anything because you are not ready.

Why you get impressed by big muscles and short brains? I know looks matter but I don't think you should be crazy for them.

Have you ever got lover like me sending you more than 10 messages everyday, waiting for you madly, just for your one look, and doing whatever you say.

I really don't know what's in your mind but at least talk to me, there is no harm in that. Anyways it's upon you, may be I am getting punished by god because you don't like me and I guess I deserve you but you don't think so. Still I will be like this just waiting for you but I am damn sure that later on I may move forward and you will really think of me later. That's a promise.

SPICE UP YOUR SEX LIFE

SPICE UP YOUR SEX LIFE

Let's talk about relationships. This word is troubling me since so long. I kept thinking about it and its do's and don'ts. Well it has many merits and demerits also but still it's unique.

We singles often hesitate to go in any relationship. We always prefer a good looking partner who is easy. And this easy makes us difficult. I mean when we opt for dating someone , we look out for good looking bodies and if we find one, we, without wasting a single minute start to get into his/her life. We don't even care about what that person thinks or do. Our body gets energetic to satisfy its needs. We always listen to our heart after seeing any one we like. But I say listen to your brain.

Good looks are not the end and not the start. An ok looking person can be made good-looking but you can't change someone's thinking and behavior. There are many factors which lead to bad endings.

We should change ourselves first. Our biggest mistake we do is to change others. When we see someone we start to act like a high court judge.

We never think that are we the one for our partner or not?
Whether we deserve this person or not?

We can easily read others writing mistakes but can't see our work. I mean make you perfect first. Who says that we can't be perfect????

We can be perfect and the most demandable person in the whole community. Just need a little fix.

First of all is appearance...in our case beauty matters. I know you must be thinking that earlier I said that good looks don't matter but they do in our case. Try to understand. First look out for yourself.

Ask yourself "Am I that good looking that anyone can be with me???"

We need to make ourselves so blessed with sophistication and glam body that not even a single individual would be there to say "no"...

I know making ourselves that good looking is a tough task but in my opinion its not. We just need to balance our life and transform and budget it in a way that we utilize every single minute of it.

When we are done with a good looks task, we need to move forward. We need to make ourselves financially sound. I mean while studying, get a job or transform your hobby into part profession. Earn from it.

Your 80% job in getting the best partner will be done by this.

People usually prefer partner who are financially sound and are self dependent.

There are numerous ways of searching partners. I know you all know that. I don't need to explain that for sure.

When you like someone you just wish for that one to be with you. Don't look out for sex. That thing is available every where. Look out for someone who has interest in you not in your body. Its obvious that we all love company of beautiful faces and same our partner will do. If we start getting responses from the one we like. First question yourself.

Do I believe in love at first site? What about "friends" becoming lovers?

Am I ready for handling relationships?

Should a couple be friends too?

Am I interested in a serious relationship?

Do I feel safe with this person? Am I comfortable expressing my feelings?

How does my partner treat other people?

When you get answers to these questions, ask them to the one you prefer but in a diplomatic and artistic manner. So that he/she doesn't know what you are trying to know.

If the answer is in your favor ask further...

Is he/she financially sound?

Money does matters so don't hesitate in asking about it.

How much money do you make?

How will we handle the finances?

Also include fun questions otherwise you will reflect an impression of being a serious bull...

Would you ask me what my biggest sexual fantasy is?

Do you enjoy phone sex?

Have you ever had a sexy nickname? How did you get it?

Did you ever have erotic thoughts about me? Describe them.

What would you do with me if we were alone right now?

Where would you like me to touch you more?

These type of questions will relax your partner and make him more comfortable with you...

don't just try the same old theories, try out something new and inventive to spice up your sex life.

So try out these tactics and get a best partner. Your partner will defiantly think that you are the most intellectual and sexy and unique perfect mate to have.

And after knowing each other you will be comfortable enough to have just not better but the best sex ever.....enjoy...

WE ALL ARE CRAZY ABOUT SEX

we all are crazy about sex

Sex, we all are crazy about it. Just want to do it.

But we never ever believe in love at this age, I mean at young age. Our tool just gets erect and there we go looking out for anyone to get laid.

And its just 5 or 10 minutes thing. It never gives that satisfaction that we seek for because it doesn't have affection, passion, emotion, sense, comfort and belief.

I mean sex with anybody or just casual sex is nothing but waste of semen. Sex is a big thing not for every one but for those who understand it. Our country is blessed with this addiction in high amount and that's what causes high rate of abortion and crime. It's obvious to see this obsession in the land of karma sutra. Well talking about Kamasutra, I personally love this book, I remember I spent 2000 rupees on it and that was my pocket money. So I knew its importance, the book was fine but the pictures were awesome. Anyway it was very interesting as everything was explained so nicely. By the way what about you?

Ever read a Kamasutra?? It doesn't teach you sex positions, it teaches you the real sex. Sex with someone not anyone. I guess sex have many aspects and depend on person to person. Some take it seriously but for some it's a method to discharge the heat with no emotions attached.

I too love sex and in fact I am crazy about it but that doesn't mean that I will get obsessed for it. Sex happens but we should not get addicted to it because excess of everything is bad even excess of sex is bad. Getting laid with anyone feels like a hooker to me. You are having casual sex with someone and after a day with another one and after that with someone else. It's inhuman and highly unethical.

We are humans blessed with 5 senses of organs and 6th one is our ability and knowledge and our wisdom but if we forget that and behave like animals then there is no difference between us and animals.

Animals have only 3 senses of organs and they are only aware of food, sex, play, it really suits them to have sex with anyone.

But in our case we are much more superior race and we should behave like one. I think we should treat our body as temple, we should not allow anyone to step in with there dirty shoes.

Only those who deserve us should get chance to know us physically. We never allow any stranger at our house, then how can we allow anyone to use ourselves and taste our body. Are we that cheap? Or we are that easy? Don't we have any self respect?

Protecting ourselves from others will not only make us healthy but also make us better people. Sex performed with one we trust and admire and love is unique and makes us happy after doing that. It never makes us feel guilty.

If we are unable to get right partner at start and are unable to control ourselves then there are ways to make us diverted to other jobs.

Masturbation is better than sleeping with anyone we get. I guess masturbation has only one benefit that we can imagine anyone in our fantasy while masturbating.

I guess when we meet anyone interesting or any good looking face; we forget the weakness and the bad side of that person and don't find it necessary to ask the person about his health status and his life. We just want that person at any cost and in case of an ok looking person we enquire everything like a cop.

Do good looks hide everything?

Our fantasy, our dream mate fantasy overlaps our sense and we start thinking from the heart and forget to use our brain.

good looks are a blessing sometimes we get by chance and other times by hard workout but it really makes the person go mad for you and people usually use this tool to get their work done and we stupid sex seekers get crazy for that looks and give everything, our money, our respect and behave like we are nothing in front of them.

CAN U IGNORE SEX IF UR PARTNER IS HOT ?

can u ignore sex if ur partner is hot ?

Cannot ignore sex

Guys are often cool when it comes to sex. This so called male ego can never feel shame in committing mistakes and sex is certainly not a mistake. Well as a guy I can get any virgin girl for marriage but when it comes to man, girls cannot expect virgin guy. Well exceptions are allowed but frankly speaking it's hard to get a virgin guy. We guys cannot survive on masturbation and we cannot create fantasy love stories. Men need good time with someone but not special. When it comes to sex, we never look out for special, we just need sex and if we get sex then we are happy. We all have different explanations to this need as no one thinks that it's bad.

But do you ever feel guilty after having sex? Well as a guy I should say no but somewhere inside I know that I might or may be I am feeling little bit guilty. Why guilty? Again there could be millions of reasons like spirituality, religion, commitment, parents, age, hunger etc...

But why as a human we cannot ignore sex? This question looks so weird. We all say it's a need and just like other need this is also important in order to survive. But besides being so particular about our needs we forget other peoples needs and we call there need as lust then why we do not judge us in the same category?

Sex is such a beautiful hunger that it creates uncomfortable environment if not performed nicely. As we all know that sex is the best way of communication among different people and animals but still some prevent it. Well it's been ages and I am deprived of sex. I know I have so many responsibilities and education and they need priority. Sex is a very powerful addiction, once you touch the feeling of love and lust, you cannot ignore it.

Usually sex dominates because it has no demerit. Sex wins all the time as it only gives benefits to us. It depends on us whether we will avail its uses or not. I know I am tired of masturbation and sometimes I masturbate twice and thrice on weekends. Oh my god, I always feel shit when I look at my semen on the floor, I know my semen needs a better accommodation than this but who cares. It's a stupid urge, I call myself desperate because I am and when it comes to sex, I am just crazy but I control myself as discipline is always mandatory. Well sex looks good when you have a partner who actually loves you but making out with a stranger for that 15 minute lust is always risky and unnatural.

The biggest punishment you can give anyone is depriving them from sex. My ex girlfriend was a bitch; she was pathetic as fuck and she always used to say no to oral sex. I supported her decision but guys are guys, common oral sex is also a part of sex and no matter how big or small dick you have, oral sex is seriously the best thing in sex. Our relationship was not working as she was too thin and I was a beast. She used to call me a wild teddy as I am big, hairy and dominating like any wild bear but there is no point of remembering her as she was not good in sex. Like I am a mouthful eater I need a mouthful sex and that is pretty much fine because I was looking at her every single need and want. Millions of relationships and marriages end up due to lack of sex. . Sex is the foundation of every couple, if a guy gets rocking sex, he will never complain even if the food is pathetic and even if the girl is fat. So it's really simple CANT IGNORE SEX...

NO STRINGS ATTACHED

NO STRINGS ATTACHED

Seriously Not Interested

We interact and communicate to make our relationship stronger. We work so hard to make it work but many times destiny is not with us and we fail in this relationship game but the mind blasting question is that are we really responsible for its failure? No matter how much perfect we are, we have some insecurity which prevents us from being open to the partner. I too had so many insecurities that prevented me in the best possible manner. I regret I had wasted so much money on some fucking dates and I have been a total loser. I always used to set a time and I never showed up, that was the biggest and most awful step I took. It all happened because of my insecurities and complex I had about my looks. I am grateful to god and nature that today I have the fucking guts to admit my mistakes so openly. Today I have created problems for myself because of my wrong choices and my wrong decisions. I have been so pathetic that I cannot explain my life in blog's. I guess I need a life to explain my life. There have been so many changes and surprisingly each day is different and challenging. I cannot stop myself. I am constantly dating and ditching people and it feels amazing. I have been ditched billion times and rejected million times and I never complained but when I ditched few I was blamed and labeled as the bad boy. I too have attitude and tantrums as I too consider my choices and likes sometimes. Some refuse nicely and some are fucking rude, so what? I cannot do anything in that. Frankly speaking good looks are the only thing and when mixed with money, then it's a match made in heaven. Well in my dating journey, I have learnt this only that if u flaunt and expose, you win but if u don't have anything, you are just kicked out of the room. So when money and looks are so important and everyone's priority then why should I consider someone's emotion? My emotions were rejected and exported to garbage box and I always complained and cried and this process was repeated like a caterpillar growth cycle. I promised myself that I will never ever date anyone for love but defiantly will date for sex and yeah off course no strings attached.

Why sex is a punishment?

Why sex is a punishment?

Well sex is a punishment and a very hard one. I know you might be wondering that why I am considering sex as punishment. As we all are aware of the fact that no body can live without sex, it is a punishment if we are deprived of sex and if some how we become an addict then also it's a punishment. Besides this sex is a punishment according to many other ways.

When we touch puberty and we feel attracted to someone, we engage our self into beautiful fantasies called as love. Luckily some achieve the benefits and they get blessed with a partner offering the sky of love and the land of sex. This is what we all dream about in our young age to get a partner who will satisfy us emotionally, mentally and physically.

Well not all are lucky; we often get disappointed in this love game. The reason behind our disappointment is our lack of knowledge. Yes! Lack of knowledge about this love game. Well there is no love; it's just a trailer we show to the opposite sex to get the plate of sex.

Some show an extraordinary trailer and in return they get many plates offering unbelievable sex. But some times we show a normal average trailer and as a result we get a plate by chance and last but not the least some times are trailers are so pathetic that we get nothing except some dirty dishes to wash.

I hope you understand what I mean and if not then let me write it more clearly. Our body is our trailer which we show and exhibit to get sex. After all foreplay is all about this. We kiss, smooch, lick and do loads of stuff to the body not to the person. So it's worshiping of body called as lust, body lust which is not at all bad.

Well I can proudly say that my lust is quiet dramatic and juicy. I want to create juicy situations with my partner, where we end up in a hot sex encounter. For e.g. I asked my partner to act like a teacher and me as a student and boom the student gets punishment of not doing work and the punishment is that he has to satisfy the lusty teacher.

Well we all should plan fantasies like this with our partner, it not only adds drama but it encourages the urge of sex as sex is always good. Well talking bout sex , sometimes we don't get chance to show the trailer as nobody seems interested in us , then at the situations like this people prefer one night stands. Well they are quite cool as you are not bothered about the dirty laundry but they can be risky if the stranger is a shit. Well I had many and luckily they were great but some were shocking too.

Well sex is a punishment as we often recall the one night stand and prefer to engage in another sexual encounter with that stranger but that stranger may or may not prefer doing sex with you again. Sex can also be a punishment if our needs get unsatisfied even after giving huge amount to escort. Well sex travels everywhere but its play is different every where according to the choices of people and the situations. Well sex can be a blessing if you get it in huge amount satisfying you from the core of your heart and rest is history. So enjoy your plate of sex.

FUCKERS ENJOY PLENTY OF LIQUOR , SEX AND MONEY

fuckers enjoy plenty of liquor , sex and money

HEIGHT OF CRUELTY

I am feeling weird and it seems like I am surrounded by real devils that are worse than any horrible pig. Life is good but the rays and the directions of my life are running in negative direction welcoming the most disgusting creatures who are the burden on this earth. It's a non ignorable fact that almighty is helping these fucking assholes with the excuse of karma. I am not in a good mood. Well when I see the worst getting the opportunity of living life king size, I feel helpless and naked. I always believed in honesty and respect and I offered these two things to everyone without any partiality and in return I got nothing except tortures and exploitation and harassment. Its not that I didn't got honesty and respect in return but a very few offered these two things to me. Well I was wrong and my education and studies proved to be wrong. The books are just a joke as whatever they teach is not in this real world. We can only dream about emotions, sentiments, love, honesty, respect in our fantasy world. The biggest and the most powerful people of this country are those who practice corruption. These corrupt inhuman freak animals in the skin of humans win all the time and luckily they do not care about anyone not even god. Well no body is punished by nature, its all book thing and I request the writers to write the real things which are happening in this world. Otherwise there would be millions of dick heads like me fucked by billions of cruel maniacs. Nature what the fuck is nature? People say that nature will grant punishment to the devil but nature is himself scared of these fucking devils. These corrupt people enjoy plenty of liquor , plenty of sex and plenty of money and there life is not less than any king but the hardworking and honest people get slaps in return of there loyalty . Well I am seriously not in a mood to say hi or hello as I am bleeding. My life is a nightmare. People fucked me without any oil and it hurts. Now don't link it with sex, it's just a phrase. I mean people exploited me. It's surprising as things turn so good in the favor of these maniacs and life is so difficult for honest people but we cannot do anything as the 90% are corrupt so it's obvious that they will dominate the 10% with style.

Prostitutes, sluts and pimps

Prostitutes, sluts and pimps

Well undoubtedly sex is the most beautiful and exciting recreational activity and no matter how many times we do it, we still want it, more and more. It's completely normal and good if you like sex. Luckily we people are smart enough to do great business because of sex. Well sex gives bread to prostitutes and sluts and pimps off course. Well they give us pleasure which is certainly better than any normal person. Although they charge for there services but it doesn't mean that they are wrong. Well its there business which feeds them then why we are against them? Well frankly speaking no one is against them and specially men who waste half of there salary on these sluts but still these men stand against prostitutes in the crowd. Such a poor thing, this society compels them to hate there best treat. 90% men are not at all satisfied with there own wife's as they easily get bored with everyday meal and hence they look out for some new meat but this liking and standing against drama is too disturbing for the people who are in the profession of prostitution. Well there life surrounds only after sex. People only see them as sex objects; I guess people are right they are sex objects as they sell there body for money but what to do? Should we stop the prostitution? Or should we stop the people who go to brothels? Well no one can be stopped. This world has variations and diversity and every one has right to live in the society. The government can not give employment to prostitutes and the men can not get satisfied by one woman. This cat and dog fight will remain forever with the twist of drama. People will raise voice for sometime and then everybody will shut up as its not just sex, it's the whole world in it.

I USE HER FOR SEX

I was getting irritated to this buffering thing. I was trying to load a stupid porn video but its taking time as usual so thought to write something for you. I know that you are awesome. From your lips to your butt, I adore you completely and passionately. Well it may be called as a confession but I seriously need you as my lust gets fostered by you only. I tried to make out with other girls too but the fun is with you only. I can even fall in love now as you are a good sucker and I am an undoubtedly good fucker, ha-ha. It seems like poetry now. I know I can get many as sex is cheaper than humans but sex is sex, it may not give me ultimate satisfaction from the bottom of my cock.

I know what you are feeling right now. Well some say we didn't expected you to be such a desperate jerk and some say that you are so annoyingly hungry but still we read you , some say that you are too brave and frank and some advice me to be diplomatic instead of being a maniac. Well all those lines you read above are my inner thoughts and that's why I like my girlfriend. Well yes I believe that I use her for sex and she does the same to me. May be we are fuck buddies but I don't know why I need someone to be my side when I go home.

Well sex can be carried on for half an hour or more than that but you cannot have sex whole day but there is this nice feeling when you see your fuck buddy around. Like watching her taking bath or watching her eating when all the cheese gets melted on her lips and you feel hungry too and going out with her , blah. Well socially that's a girlfriend/boyfriend thing but that creates boundaries and limitations as you cannot have sex with other chicks around but why I have this mixed feeling? Sometimes I need a wife who can be a good cook and a good slut at a time and sometimes I need a girlfriend who knows her value and boundaries. Damn I have crossed my teen age and it still feels weird and outdated as I don't have a good sex life. Huh lets wish for the good.

quest for sex

Well developments are neat and tidy but the people who are contributing are untidy and dirty. As advancement is increasing day by day, it's obvious to see advancement in other aspects too and the most common area of advancement is our brain.

There was a time when I had a quest for advancement but today I hesitate when it comes to this category. I am youth and I should be open and bold but everything has limits and things look good when they are not stretched too much. Someone told me that excess of everything is bad but this statement looks useless as no one is following it.

Well as I mentioned about the advancement of brain, I will not discuss about technology or business as very few are interested in this. Advancement in brain is also distributed inside the brain according to the topics. If I talk about sex, I don't guess but I can confidently say that billions are ready to invest their time and energy and money to know and understand this amazing play. Maximum are getting advanced in terms of sex only and other topics are useless and time wasting for them.

When something is done again and again, it becomes a regular process and soon that cycle becomes easy and approachable. Every parent sees innocence and angel like nature in their children but when children become adult or join the hand of puberty, they generate a quest for knowledge and that knowledge is of sex. This play is really powerful and it's a super addiction, a good slogan is coming in my mind right now...ek baar karogay to karte hi reh jaogay , NO ONE CAN HAVE JUST ONE.

You are not at fault, anyone can get carried away. There is no human being in this world who can survive without sex. It's awesome, once it happens, it gives pleasure and we want more and more.

There are very few who can really control their desires and divert their mind to work as after it's done, you would probably think about it again and again.

But what makes sex so powerful?

Why sex dominates us?

Why we get carried away?

Why are tempting bodies so influencing?

Besides all the desires, sex desire dominates all. From poor to rich everyone needs sex. From animals to human's sex revolves around our lives. From straight to homosexual sex is performed with pleasure.

In earlier times we were not aware about these things but today from any corner and from any youth you can ask anything about sex and the reply would be shocking. Sex is easily available and multiple partners are a fashion.

But my question is can you talk about sex? No one is ready to talk, we all are just ready to do it but when it comes to talking, we zip it up.

Why? Why do we hesitate? We never discuss this with our partner as majority is available to offer the minutes pleasure. The most common thing known as break up is caused by our lack of skills in this play and that's why people are making them sharper and experienced by choosing multiple or frequent partners.

I really pity, we innocent people do not have time to understand the inner side of any one but we do have hell lotta time to understand the outer side of everyone. Well this advancement is pretty dirty and shockingly annoying as people are no more people they are objects, in fact sex objects to satisfying our so called body lust.

SEX IS NOT JUST A WORD

SEX IS NOT JUST A WORD

I don't know whenever I am stressed, I look out for sex. I believe that sex has the ability to vanish the stress and tension. Well I have read in many magazines about sex exercise as it is beneficial in every way. I know we perform sex for pleasure and that pleasure and comfort is capable enough to satisfy our body hunger but many practice it for losing weight as it burns calories. Sex is the only topic which can entertain any one and we never get bored with it. It's unbelievable.

This process of satisfying each others body hunger and need is awesome as the type of satisfaction it offers is impeccable. You cannot compare the body hunger with food hunger in anyway. Today youth can live without food but cannot live without sex; it's so addictive and overpowering. But this is not my question and I am not here to tell you the merits of sex, we all know that. I am curious and I want to control my sex desire. As you all know that I am very sensitive and I feel love, sex is not just sex for me, it's more than that. Sex gives touch and feel of love if done with passion and dedication.

Today sex is so easy that it can happen anytime, anywhere with anyone. There are no boundaries now. Youth is lucky that they are blessed with internet as it offers lots of opportunities for sexual encounters and multiple partners is a fashion.

Well sex is a job today, even people from good families practice prostitution as the best job as it offers pleasure, comfort, money and what you have to give in return..? Nothing because you are receiving pleasure too I was shocked to see some people who do not feel shame in admitting about there part time job which was prostitution. In fact they enjoy this line; they proudly call themselves as escort which is quite a sexy name for them. In day they work in MNC or some are studying and in odd hours there secret job starts with passion and dedication.

It depends on person to person that how they define sex? Some call it wow, some are addicted and some cannot tolerate it. But sex is always in demand and it will be. Hotels and clubs are running on the mercy of sex as 80% of the rooms are booked for sex only and clubs are less for dancing and more for making out.

As sex goes through many stages, starting from kissing to smooching to body play to oral sex to intercourse. Its unbelievable fact that some people do not go through all these stages. Well personally speaking I like every stage and it's hard to control the ejaculation till last stage as body play and oral sex are very satisfying. Some partners get premature ejaculation in kissing and smooching only , some are able to take it longer from body play to oral sex but some are tough enough to maintain themselves till the last shot.

I have many male friends and some are very interesting like one of my friend named tarun had 6 girlfriends and he was maintaining them continuously as one girl was good in fucking , other was in oral sex and rest were occasional in the absence of first and second girl friend.

It's very hard to see and expect virginity and loyalty from girls and boys. Parents think that their kids are innocent and dumb when it comes to sex but sorry parents youth is more educated when it comes to sex.

Like me every guy has questions and suggestions when it comes to sex. Guys are very good at gossiping and gossiping about sex and chicks are their priority. Can you see and expect any youth who will be gossiping about the human welfare and country? Not in today's world as sex is the most interesting subject in the world. No matter how much you try to avoid it you cannot as it acts like a shadow. I tried my best to control my sexual desires; I was tired of masturbation as it only offers weakness. I wanted and I tried my best to utilize my time in some other activity, I was able to concentrate for a while in work and studies but again my mind was thinking about this amazing play as it's not just a word it's a whole world within.

i just love porn

Well now don't look at me like that. I know you are surprised. In childhood I was stupid and my male friends used to make fun of me. They had this misconception that I don't know anything about sex. I remember once one of my classmate took me to cyber café, this café was pretty good and the most amazing quality was that it had closets, they were like mini computer rooms which can accommodate two people only.

I was curious about internet as I didn't know what actually it was; it was like seeing an extraordinary invention. Suddenly he opened a website and it was scary as well as tempting. I haven't seen stuff like that in my entire life and as I was a kid at that time, I got worried and scared. I don't know why this happened? But I ran away from there. Damn the word PORN was not a good word of my dictionary. As we all know that internet is blessed with millions of porn sites and billions invest there time, money and effort to see porn, I was the one who was against it.

Some say porn is good as it gives them pleasure and some say porn is bad as they cannot handle the intimate scenes. Talking about porn, our film industry is also turning into porn industry as already intimacy to some extent is visible in today's cinema. We can easily see foreplay scenes in movies today so you can say there is no dignity and respect in today's environment. Directors and producers are busy in making money; they are not concerned with the audience. They know that these intimate scenes will attract audience and will automatically lead to success. The audience has different types of viewers from old to mature to child. But the question is who will care about the rights of children? It's a non ignoring fact that these scenes put a negative impact on the mind of children and these intimate sex scenes are powerful enough to destroy the mental state of the children.

Well film makers are also not at fault. They are compelled to show the demand. Audience is only interested in spicy stuff no matter how much harm it can cause. Films based on morals and god are easily avoided as audience call it waste of time as they are no more interested in getting educated. But once again they prove that they are only interested in getting sex education through porn films and other adult films.

We all are culprits and we never blame our self, its easy to point finger on others but tough to disclose your own weak points. Sex is such a wide concept that it affects all. People are using this pleasure to make money, to get satisfaction and to exploit others.

crazy sex...

Love is a difficult job and it's impossible to become committed for long because of so many alternatives and distractions. Love is the most pure feeling which cannot be valued, it's unbelievable but seriously no body believes in love.

NO body wants to feel, they need more. Generally the end result of love which is sex is practiced without any hesitation. Sex is not the satisfaction of body need only, it is the most innocent and interesting prayer performed by two committed mad lovers which in return gives immense satisfaction of souls with the happiness of the partners and nature. Sex is an opportunity and not less than any blessing if emotions are invited.

Sentiments and emotions add spice and drama to any love game which makes life interesting to live and entertaining off course. Surprisingly we are ignoring the ultimate sense of pleasure and comfort by performing sex without emotions and attachment and that's the only reason of our guilt which is often invited after any dangerous sexual encounter.

Today nobody has got time to feed any lover but still we dream of the perfect mate. In the journey of finding the perfect one, we sleep with millions and kick the billions and the end result is zero giving loneliness and a feeling of frustration and anger.

Sex is the reward lovers give each other after receiving tons of love emotionally and mentally. Physical intimacy is the gift we offer to express our love and commitment and loyalty but stupid generation offers this gift without hesitation easily because of uncontrolled sex desires. Temporarily they become the king but later they crave like any desperate model.

Getting fucked for work

Getting fucked for work

Type of respect

Its obvious to get crazy about those who come on TV and the most common example is film stars and we all get crazy and excited by there one look in real world. Weather it's a flop star or a famous one, we do not ignore a single chance to have a look. This excitement is unlimited and it's hard to resist but my million dollar question is that why we get so restless and crazy? Why we cannot control our emotions? Why we get so excited? Well it can be because of there popularity or may be because of there beauty but these answers are not satisfactory. Well the thing is we have a legal mindset that those who are in the field of acting are above everyone. I am not against film industry; in fact I too want to work in this field. It's the popularity and the fame that makes everyone insane. No field can give us so much fame and name and it's a fact. Today modeling and acting is a dream job of every individual and this can be seen easily on social networking sites. Millions of guys and girls get there photo shoots done and then the whole procedure starts audition, hard work, casting couch etc...

Well half of us don't even know the meaning of acting. It's the limelight that motivates us to work in this field. Many guys from so reputed business families ignore there family business and live a life of struggler in Mumbai as it's not an easy task to get the role when you don't have any godfather. Basically this line is corrupt, one has to carry guts to enter and stay unpolluted. No matter how descent you are, you have to surrender. From feminine fashion designers to egoistic producers . The chain is very long full of lust and desperation. I have many friends who were tough like a stone at the start but today they are soft like clay and they are often used and wasted by the kings of this tempting film industry.

Well sex plays a major role you see. It's a very good field for a homosexual man as chances of exploitation of men are more than woman. Well compromise and go ahead does not work every time as there are many who will fuck you and then will kick you. There are very few who are lucky to get work after getting fucked. The biggest problem with our generation is that we trust easily. There are billions of fake bastards in this world who are ready to exploit you and ruin you completely, it's almost impossible to trust anyone. Do not trust there sweet voice which is full of compliments and care. No body cares, until and unless they are getting anything in return they won't help you out. It's a give and take thing or you can pray to god that almighty might give you Star parents in your next birth.

This film line is absolutely amazing but with the twist and gift of danger, lust, exploitation and corruption. Well it does not mean that it's so bad. There are producers who are genuine and there are production houses that prefer work rather than sex but it's hard to get the real people and if you are luck is working then defiantly sky is the limit.

Well no doubt in one night we feel like we are in heaven. Our life changes so quickly. Even a small face of TV serial gets millions of fans and lovers and a proud moment for parents. I too had millions of dreams but they are just dreams and I don't bother to make them real. I know I can and I have the potential but I cannot face the phase of rejection and exploitation. I might get selected without any exploitation but I guess I don't have guts to take the bloody risk. Once we fight with our parents for that one chance, we feel that we will become the star next morning but it looks good in movies only. Common be reasonable now, money is tempting but the path is like hell if your hard work is not acknowledged and your body is acknowledged.

why sex is mandatory ?

Sex is mandatory

I know I am a guy and girls have a particular thinking about guys. They think that guys only look for one thing and they are right. It's a non ignorable fact. Well in short

Girls believe that men are dog because they act like one. I don't know about maximum men but trust me at the end of the day men need only one thing and that is sex.

Pure hot sex is men's priority and they are ready to worship girls for that. There is a very popular say that woman need reason to make out and men need place to make out. They hardly believe in relationships.

In fact relationships and trust and love are all labels given to there fun. Well these labels are mandatory to beautify the picture of the lovers. There are cases where lovers may get serious but it's an exception which is rarely possible. There are many reasons involved in this.

Today's environment is very fast and due to development and technology, we are smart and we know well about our needs and desires. In this section there is a corner given to fitness , due to invention of gyms and workout machines we are able to get the desired physique which looks appealing and mouth watering and as we are finally blessed with the high alert of over population we cannot ignore the most interesting fact. The fact is that there is a big ratio of fitness freaks or good looking people and we can get plenty of them. This availability creates the chances where we can make choice and we can also switch to alternatives.

Millions of happy lovers switch to break up because of this fitness option. There are girls who are out of shape and that is why they are ignored as the boy needs a hot body to make him sweat in his pants and in the same case girls look for good looking guys who can work as her toy to tease her friends. This whole relationship thing is crap , youth is too active and they don't believe in slowing down and as we all are aware of the fact that relationships and commitment gives stability and barrier , we usually ignore it as an uncommitted person has millions of options and committed is just like trapped parrot.

I don't believe in love anymore because love teaches us the most difficult lessons which need dedication and passion in every way. Love means sacrifice and it's a pure feeling which is free from the castle of lust but as we all know that lust is very powerful and lust can make anyone or can break anyone. Lust dominates every person of this world; you cannot ignore it in anyway. Fat guys and girls will be proposed and liked only if there is love otherwise we all know the reality.

Sex is a combination of need and want and no doubt it gives us the desired satisfaction which is good , good to release mental tension and as youth is touching the sky of puberty , they cannot control there sexual needs and they need partner to satisfy them immediately , this time is very crucial . In this time period the youth is distracted and cropped up by various responsibilities and jobs. Some are studying, some are into job, some are still making there career but for this they cannot ignore there sexual needs, they don't believe in masturbation any more. Like when they are hungry they eat food in that same way when there body hunger hits them, they look out for girlfriends or boyfriends.

It's not a shame and it's not a crime, only if girls and guys are involved in sex with mutual understanding and acceptance. Words like love, missing, dear, yours, lovingly all plays a key role is creating a movie which is quite enjoyable. Girls count every sexual encounter as love but for guys its just sex, a moment of minutes where they need there cream to be out by hook or by crook.

Well this battle of love and lust will take place like this in every phase and in every century as youth is crazy and for them sex is mandatory.

Do bisexual men really deserve acceptance?

Do bisexual men really deserve acceptance?

Gone are those days when men used to cheat their wife's for another woman. World is changing so are men. Well the bisexual trait is well established in men and woman but when it comes to bisexual men, the things are pretty dramatic and demanding. Well before starting this debatable article I wish to recall the definition of bisexuality in order to clear out any misunderstanding and misconceptions. Bisexuality is romantic or sexual attraction or you can say behavior towards male and female. Although this looks quite simple in terms of writing but it's not, trust me. We often do not believe this as it looks like an individual choice. Besides having many scientific proofs bisexuals have failed to prove themselves as right and justified. Their attraction towards opposite sex as well as same sex is considered choice and not a biological trait. This behavior is generally treated weird and people do not consider a bisexual man as bisexual if they know about his sexual interest towards men. Bisexual men often consider themselves superior from homosexual men as they are not easily identified and labeled.

Seriously you cannot predict and label any bisexual men as bisexual until and unless he reveals it from his own damn mouth. Any happily married men with kids can be a bisexual but as I said above the chances of identification are nil.

These bisexual men are openly seen on these gay dating and hookup sites where most of them pose themselves as straight. Some do not even tolerate the label of bisexual as being married gives them the certificate of straight and the society never considers a married guy as gay or bisexual.

The reason behind this bisexual trait is not known to anyone except scientists who are working hard to find out the inside stories of human mind. Well even the bisexual men do not consider them bisexual or homosexual , for them it's a mercy they do on homosexual guys or you can say they chuck out there sexual aggression by doing sex with men.

The life of bisexuality is quite better than straight as quoted by one of the bisexual guy I was interviewing. Well for them they are never under pressure as having extra marital affair with a woman is quite risky as there can be chances of pregnancy or other type of exploitation charges by woman off course but in case of men the things are quite easy and adjustable as homosexual guy cannot launch a complaint against bisexual guy for rape or exploitation specially in the conservative country like India. The level of acceptance for gay men in India is very low and the chances of support are nil. This gives tremendous opportunities to bisexual men when it comes to casual sex. The gay world is so fast in sex that things work very easily when it comes to sex, the homosexual guys are not looking for a relationship in India but sex with same sex is seriously a nice opportunity for them.

Moreover the woman cannot easily suspect there husband as gay or bisexual as he is equally satisfying her every night. Some bisexual men may be less inclined towards there wife's but intercourse is never ignored by them.

But why bisexual men do not feel satisfied with there wife's? Why they also need men for physical satisfaction? Is it the high sex drive? Or may be they do not feel fully satisfied with there wife's? Or they are simply choosy and prefers different dish every night?

Or may be they are born with this quality? Well these questions have different answers with every bisexual man. No matter how much advanced we have become in terms of technology and urbanization but still we do not accept the advancement of human nature.
